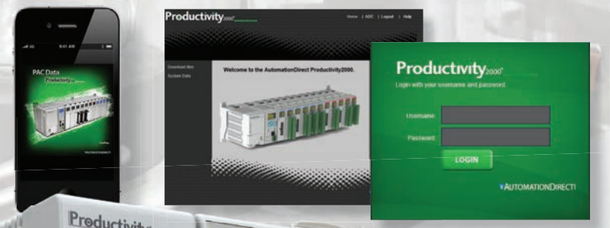
Productivity2000

Powerful PLC with Built-in Data Logging

The feature-packed Productivity2000 PLC allows you to track up to 64 tags at a time and saves the data to the removable micro-SD card housed in the CPU. Capture up to 32GB of data either periodically (minute, hour, day, week, etc.) or when certain events occur. Log tag data, system errors and system events which can be used to improve efficiency and performance, troubleshoot reoccurring or intermittent faults, and predict future breakdowns. And with the integrated OPC support, web server with secure login, and free mobile app, the Productivity2000 delivers the data whenever and wherever it is needed.



C-more

Full-featured HMI with Plenty of Data Storage

C-more HMIs are some of the most popular and reliable operator interfaces in the industrial market today. Many of you already know the benefits that C-more HMIs provide, but did you know that these panels also do data logging? In fact, the C-more touch panel can store 32GB of alarm and message data, screen captures and PLC tag trend data on a removable SD card or USB memory device. This data can then be emailed, retrieved via FTP, or accessed through the built-in web server.
